

NACSW Sanctioned
Odor Recognition Test
Birch, Anise and Clove

Friday, March 25th, 2011
Start time: 5pm

10624 60th Street E
Sumner, WA 98390

It's A Dog's World is proud to announce that it will be holding a National Association of Canine Scent Work sanctioned Odor Recognition Test for BIRCH, ANISE & CLOVE. The ORT will be held at the indoor IADW training building and will be on a rubber matted surface. There will be no indoor crating available so dogs must be crated in a vehicle.

All handlers must be a member of NACSW and their dog(s) must be registered with NACSW to participate in this ORT. Participants must have a NACSW scorebook for each dog competing with them the day of the ORT in order to participate. You may register your dog and become a member of NACSW at www.nacsw.net Please review the NACSW ORT and Trial Guidelines and Rulebook prior to the ORT.

We will be limiting each handler to test with 2 dogs per odor, space permitting. We will be testing Birch starting at 5pm, followed by Anise and then Clove. The link for the registration form will be available online Friday, February 18th. 2011. Payment in form of a check must be sent with a registration form in order to guarantee your spot. We will send out a running order once we determine the number of teams we will be testing on each odor. Day of registration will be taken only if space is available.

Cost of event will be $20 per dog/odor.

Any questions, please email Desiree Snelleman at desiree@dogsworldtraining.com or Peggy Haslach peggy@dogsworldtraining.com .